COMPLETE REVISION

Thorough Revision of Customs Administrative Act.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS

After An Investigation Lasting Six Years, Merchant Associations Committee on Revenue Laws and Customs Service Complete Revision of Act.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—After careful work, covering more than six years, the Merchants Associations Committee on the revenue laws and customs service yesterday completed a thorough revision of the customs administrative act and forwarded its report to Secretary Shaw. The committee consists of Thomas H. Downing, chairman, Herman A. Metz, George F. Victor, J. Crawford McCreery, and George Angell, secretary.

The committee makes two important recommendations, namely a more practical definition of foreign market values and the abandonment of the present system of "star chamber investigations," in re-appraisement cases. Both of these recommendations are, it is asserted, in direct line with the wishes of Germany, and would furnish a basis for delaying the application of maximum tariff rates by Germany on American goods.

In section three in the words, "The actual market value or wholesale price thereof at the time of exportation to the United States," it is proposed to insert after the words "Price thereof," the words "For exportation," so that it shall read, "The actual market value or wholesale price thereof for exportation at the time of exportation to the United States."

It is expected that patented articles in foreign countries as well as our own have frequently two or more distinct market values, i. e., one price for home consumption in the patented territory, another for export.

In the same section it is proposed to strike out the words "and that it is the price which the manufacturer or owner making the declaration would have received and was willing to receive for such merchandise sold in the ordinary course of trade, in the usual wholesale quantities," and insert the words, "And it is the price which the manufacturer or owner making the declaration expects to obtain and is willing to receive."

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Hairicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."
Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Hairicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

for the merchandise from the consignee thereof."
The committee submit that no shipper or importer should be called upon to make oath or declaration as to what he "would have received" for merchandise sold in the ordinary course of trade, if he does not sell the same in the ordinary course of trade.

COMING TO CANADA.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Rothschild will, at his own expense, send two hundred families to Canada. The scheme forms the basis for the solution of the problem regarding the unemployed in Great Britain.

FULTON'S GOODWORK

the memory of Senator John H. Mitchell, was the last deed in a tragic situation which will be long remembered in the national Congress. Senators, without dissent, agreed to pay the funeral expenses of their associate, the sum being slightly more than $500. Senator Fulton availed himself of this opportunity with mingled sadness and pleasure.

At the time of Senator Mitchell's death Senator Fulton declared that he would introduce the usual resolution in the Senate, and was prepared to do so, when the members of that body prevailed upon him to defer, else a scene would be precipitated which would be humiliating to the friends of the dead man and to the State. Only in the face of this determined opposition did the Oregon man surrender his purpose. He argued in vain, meeting the leaders of the Senate in person repeatedly, declaring that his friendship for his dead colleague demanded that he even sacrifice his prestige if necessary in an effort to see that usual courtesies were extended to the memory of the dead.

Senator Fulton never felt that he had been placed in a right light because of the attitude of the Senate, and when the opportunity arose to bring the matter up again, he did so quickly, and this time was allowed to introduce the resolution to defray the funeral expenses. This made the Senate take official cognizance of the death, and while the Oregon man could not force the usual resolution, he did succeed in bringing the name of his colleague from the oblivion to which the Senate had determined to place it.

For Good Roads.

Good roads in the West, especially the Northwest, will be discussed more the coming few months than ever before. In this movement Oregon and Washington have front place. The first demonstrations to be made will be in these two States. Senator Fulton and Samuel Hill have completed arrangements for the two miles of experimental highway, which will be built in Pendleton and Salem at an early date. Mr. Hill, who is president of the Washington Good Roads Association and second official in the national bureau of good roads, will attend in person the Oregon work, bringing six to seven experts, three carloads of machinery and will see that the work is done according to the standard established by the good roads people throughout the country. He asked Senator Fulton to interest the people of his State in the demonstrations, and secure the largest possible attendance, which the Senator agreed to do. As soon as the date of the work is known, the Senator will publish the fact widely, and urge the county commissioners of every county of the State to be present at one or the other of the places when the mile of road was being built.

The effect of this good roads campaign is already assured wide benefits. Senator Fulton has become one of the most eager champions of the work, and is gathering for consideration, important figures on what it means to his State. Owing to the radically different climatic conditions on the two sides of the Cascade range, he believes that his State offers an admirable field for tests. Mr. Hill, while a citizen of Washington, has been impartial in his work to help both States at the same time.

DEATH IS DEFEATED

Doctor Says Hypnotism Will Stop Death

HE CITES SEVERAL CURES

Says That by Yelling in the Corpse's Ear Death Will Flee Away in Sudden Haste—Operations Made Painless by Hypnotism.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—That, at the moment of death the quality of suggestibility is at its maximum and that through hypnotic suggestion patients given up by physicians may be brought back to life, is the latest discovery of Dr. John D. Quackenbos, as announced at "A Metaphysical Evening," held by the Entertainment Club last night. Dr. Quackenbos cited an instance where last June he saved the life of a patient who had been given up by the physicians. "Her condition," he said, "was the same as a death sentence—temperature 107 1-7, pulse 100, respiration 60—and the attending physicians had withdrawn from the case as beyond the pale of hope." He stood by the woman's bedside and said: "Adele, you cannot die. Come back, you have work to do on earth. Do not dare to say it is too late. Assume immediate control of your physical function and get well."

"Gradually the mental mist cleared away," said the doctor.

"The physical strength returned and today the girl is perfectly well. In two other cases," continued the doctor, "moribund patients, one a judge of prominence, were recalled from death by shouting in the ear at the moment of dissolution a command to return. The method would further avail in many cases of drowning, of shocking, by gases, and narcotic drugs. We are literally on the threshold of discovery. Metaphysics seems destined in the century before us to demonstrate immortality on respectable scientific grounds by establishing the facts and unfolding the laws of telepathy and clairvoyant."

Dr. Beatrice Hinkle, formerly the visiting physician in a women's prison in California, told how she had cured morphine and drink habits in women of former prominence through psychic suggestion. No authenticated case of a person being forced to commit crime by hypnotic suggestions, she said, was known.

Dr. Robert M. Taft spoke of performing operations without pain to the patient through the induction of anaesthesia by hypnotic suggestion.

PIG TIN MARKET.

Latest Report From Reliable Source of Intelligence.

For the benefit of those, and very many, by the way, who have a definite interest in the state of the pig tin market, with its gradual, and steady advance, the Astorian publishes herewith, the last letter from H. M. Newhall & Company, of San Francisco, in this relation:

"SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30, 1906.
"Dear Sirs:—Since ours of the 19th inst., London has advanced 7s 6d per ton (say 1-16c per lb.), and Singapore has gained about 1-8c. On the 24th inst. London looked very strong (about 1-4c per lb. above today's closing figures) and the indications were that we were on the eve of a still higher market. London, however, fell off 1 pound today, but the steady tone prevailed at the close.

"Regarding the future course of the market the opinion is freely expressed in metal circles that the decline is only temporary and that prices will be higher than ever very soon.

"As we write a letter from a prominent Metal House in New York is to hand and we cannot do better than submit a copy of same:

"During the recent break two of the biggest London operators have been depressing the market by continuous sales. It is hard to say what their object may be, because the statistical position certainly continues to improve to an unprecedented extent. The Far East has been a rather free seller of late, and this may partly account for the London manipulations, as it may perhaps suit the operators to depress markets in order to get in as much as possible at low figures. My London friends cannot account for the break in any other way.

"It goes, of course, without saying that the price level is naturally high compared with the prices ruling heretofore for pig tin. But, on the other hand, there is no doubt that the visible supplies are the smallest on record for this time of the year for the last fifteen or twenty years, and this in spite of a consumption which has nearly doubled during this period."

"We quote today: Spot (nominally), 38c; February arrival, 38c; March-April arrival, 37c.

"Yours very truly,
"H. M. NEWHALL & CO."
